San Francisco, CA | May 1-4, 2008 | www.IMsL.org

Dearest Folks,

So, here it is, the end of my title year. It has been a fantastic year expanding my world in the leather community. While my personal life can be a little turbulent, I have always been able to rely on you people of leather for support. Your graciousness and gifts of money to my travel fund has been more than generous. Yet, the real support I received embodies itself in the smiles and hugs, kind words and thoughtful advice of people I meet. I, like anyone, am most beholden to my leather family, my dearest friends, closest acquaintances and this community. I am thankful to the people of other communities for the same things. The warm greeting, generous hugs and deep conversations (even in the gail force winds of Dallas) with perfect strangers of leather is like none else I've run into in all my vanilla travels, even among pirates and theater people.

I wish I could thank everyone individually by name but, get real now. So, Thank you to all learther folks past and present, the people at South Plains Leather, Southwest leather, Leather Life Weekend, GLAM, TNG, AEL, The Leather Wolves, NMLL, and especially my friends, and my leather family. You all have given me more than I could ever repay. But I will strive to live my life giving you all the same support that you have shown me. Thank you, thank you, thank you, (infinity).

Always YOUR Mr. Rio Grande Leather '07,

Drew
